

Universal Phylogenetic Tree

(taken from Brock) This tree is based on comparative sequencing of 16S or 18S ribosomal RNA. Note the three major domains of living organisms: the eubacteria, the archaeobacteria and the eucaryotes. The evolutionary distance between groups of organisms is proportional to the cumulative horizontal distance between the end of a branch and the node that joins the two groups.

